Meg K. Guliford is an Assistant Professor in Drexel University's Department of Politics. Her broad research agenda reflects her interests in political violence, conflict processes, and U.S. foreign policy. Prior to joining Drexel, she was a Vice-Provost Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Pennsylvania. Guliford received her Ph.D. in International Relations from Tufts University, an M.P.P. from the Harvard Kennedy School, and a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Before pursuing an academic career, she spent more than a decade working in the national security and intelligence community.
